Donna is from Albion, Michigan. Her first camping memory is from a piece of plywood in the back of a pickup truck cap in the Canadian wilderness when she was 5 years old. This trip and many others across the United States planted the seeds for owning or running a campground as an adult.

Cherrystone RV Resort in Virginia was her first campground where she was the Recreation Director for seven years. She moved back to Michigan to run summer day camp programs and after-school enrichment programs serving 500+ children for the City of Battle Creek. Three years later, she returned to Cherrystone as Assistant Manager, and gained valuable experience in the six years she was there. For the past five years, she has worked for Adventure Bound Camping Resorts in Gatlinburg, TN.

Donna spends some of her free time volunteering at her church on the production team and at Pets Without Parents animal shelter. If the weather is right, she can be found out hiking one of the trails in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park; and when it isn't, at a movie theater catching up on the newest flick.
